SYNOPSIS

Jeong-eun works as a technical administrator at a company with severe discrimination against women, and all of a sudden, she is dispatched to one of the subcontractors. Despite the blatant pressure to resign, Jeong-eun plans to hold out and return to the head office after one year. However, the conditions working for the subcontractor with assertive attitude and working on tall transmission towers, which she is not familiar with, are challenging. No matter how tough Jeong-eun is, as a dispatched employee, she must overcome everything to survive.

SYNOPSIS

As their father is on his deathbed, three sons and one daughter are gathered for the reading of his will, which should determine how the patriarch's fortune of two million dollars should be split. Whereas the eldest son is disappointed to get only nine hundred thousand, the other siblings are naturally enraged to discover that they are left with the other half of the sum to be shared between them. The situation suddenly tips in favor of the latter when the eldest son receives a phone call that his only son has just been abducted, with the kidnapper demanding a ransom of... two million dollars.

SYNOPSIS

A man loses his memory and wakes up in a new body every 12 hours, each time forced to discover who he is anew. This condition begins when he wakes up in the middle of a car crash, in the body of someone he doesn't recognize, without any knowledge of who he is. He begins to realize that his spirit is stuck to a different body and moves every 12 hours. In his desperate search to find himself, he comes across a woman who claims to recognize him. As he bores deeper into the mystery, he runs into a secretive organization that appears to be chasing him. Before it's too late, he must find a way back into his own body.

SYNOPSIS

A small city on the outskirts of Seoul. Young-seok, a university student nearing graduation, comes across a woman in the street who has fallen from her wheelchair, and helps her back home. She ends up feeding him a simple meal and he develops a vague curiosity for this woman who introduces herself as "Josée". From this time on Young-seok occasionally stops by Josée's house, receiving free meals and getting to know this woman who reads a lot, has a comprehensive knowledge of whiskey, and tells him stories, which he's not sure are true. Gradually, they come to share an unforgettable love.
